

8:00 PM on Friday, June 23

Arts Career Symposium

It's about a way of thinking.

The factors that make a career in the performing arts possible are not entirely what you might think they are. The Arts Career Symposium encapsulates 30 years of personal experience, mentoring and observation. Each story is unique, yet they each have ideas and strategies in common.

What we will talk about:

Income Streaming and:

- The Entrepreneurial Mindset
- Business and lifestyle choices that support your career in the arts
- Business Platforms for Entrepreneurial Artists
- Small Business Planning
- The "Spring Board City" vs. NYC

Practical Strategies for Living Well

Now:

- College; Location, Programs & Electives

Post College:

- Affordable Lifestyle Options
- Investments
- Insurance
- Time Management and Financial Planning
- Balancing Auditions, Travel, Gigs and Business Needs

Preparation: During the weeks before the workshop, I'll briefly interview each young artist who registers to attend. The goal of the interview is to gather information on abilities and interests aside from those within the performing arts.

Class Size: Limited to 5 young artists, each accompanied by one or two (parents, close friend or partner) who actively support them in their endeavors.

Registration: To register, submit tuition to NM Productions, Inc.

- Deadline: June 2. Registration for this class is final.

Friday, June 23 from 8:00 to 9:30 pm

The voice studio, in the art studio space

Tuition: $75.00.